ANNOUNCE OFFICIALS

James E. Sullivan to Referee
Federal Games.

"MIKE" MURPHY THE STARTER

Matt Halpin, Manager of Olympic Team, Selected as Official Scorer.
Track and Field Judges Will Be
Same as Last Year To Complete
Programme by 11 o'clock.

The events in the Federal indoor games on the 28th of next month will be conducted by one of the classiest and most experienced corps of officials who have ever acted in any set of games held in the South, making it certain that the races and other events will be run off without any long waits. The management has arranged a schedule which calls for the completion of the programme by 11 o'clock, and the officials have been chosen with that end in view.

Heading the list as honorary referee is James E. Sullivan, who is serving his third term as president of the Amateur Athletic Union, and who was appointed by President Roosevelt as American commissioner to the London Olympic games last July. This will be Mr. Sullivan's first appearance in such capacity in indoor games in Washington. George Orton, the old intercollegiate long-distance champion and manager of the Pennsylvania relay races, will serve for the third successive year as active referee. Mr. Orton has a reputation for keeping things moving, and it was largely due to his constant hustling that the Federal games last year were finished on scheduled time.

Two other men who were actively connected with the American Olympic team will officiate in the Federal games. "Mike" Murphy, most famous coach of athletes, and trainer of the Olympic team, will be the starter. In a letter received yesterday by Manager Stuart from Murphy, the trainer says: "I will be very glad to act again as starter in the Federal games, and the only time I always look forward with pleasure to the occasion." Mr. M. P. Halpin, of New York, who was the manager of the Olympic team, has been chosen as the official referee. Mr. Halpin's experience in athletics extends back a dozen years, and he will be an ideal aid to the referee in keeping things going all the time.

The track and field judges and timers are the same as last year, with the addition of C. M. Hammett, of Tome Institute; T. E. Strauss, president of the Southern Athletic Association of the Amateur Athletic Union, and E. M. Wilson, principal of the Central High School. Ward Beam, of Philadelphia, who made such a hit last year, will do the megaphone act as announcer, and there will be the same marshals under the direction of Dr. Karpelies, made a reputation for keeping the floor clear of everybody except competing athletes and active officials.

The schedule arranged for this year's games calls for the starting of the trials in the scholastic sprints at 7:45 o'clock, and the starting of the final relay race at 10:50 o'clock.

The complete list of officials is as follows:

PLACE W. A. LARNED FIRST.

National Tennis Association Announces Rankings.

New York, Jan. 2.—The ranking committee of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association today gave out the standings of the tennis players, based on the results of the season's play.

The committee did an enormous amount of work, ranking not less than eighty-six players in the singles, and considering the names of forty-two who were unranked because of insufficient play.

In the doubles fifteen pairs got a rating. The honor role in the singles, composed of the first ten, is as follows: W. A. Larned, the national champion, beat B. C. Wright, runner-up in the championship singles; Frederick B. Alexander, finalist in the all-comers; W. J. Clothier, finalist in the all-comers; D. Little, Robert Le Roy, Nat Emerson, Nathaniel W. Niles, W. F. Johnson, and Richard H. Palmer. Larned was first and Wright was second last year, because of insufficient data, nor was Clothier. Little was fourth last year and Le Roy fifth.

The others were well outside the first ten last year.

In the doubles, naturally, Hackett and Alexander, the national champions, are again placed first. B. C. Wright and R. D. Little rank second. Larned, Little, and the Wrenn brothers make up the teams that are third, fourth, and fifth. Holcombe Ward also being in the fourth team.

Dartmouth, 51 Winchester, 0.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 2.—Dartmouth's hockey team added another victory today by defeating the Winchester Country Club, 5 to 0.

BASEBALL MEN MEET

All Sorts of Trades Rumored at Joint Session.

REINSTATEMENT OF CHASE

New York Highlanders' First Baseman Likely to Be Taken Into Fold
Again—Brooklyn Will Once More
Attempt to Land Dahlen—Other
Baseball News of General Interest.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 2.—Baseball will be in the air here next week. Already there are rumors of trades and counter trades, but nothing definite is known and will not be until the magnates arrive to attend the joint meeting of the schedule committee of the National and American baseball leagues.

Frank Farrell, president of the New York Highlanders, will be on the ground, and he will try to have the commission reinstate his first baseman, Hal Chase, the man who left the New Yorks late last season and hiked to California, where he is playing outland ball. Rumor has it that the young first baseman will be reinstated, but only after he has been severely reprimanded, and a heavy fine assessed against him, as a warning to contract jumpers.

Another deal that may go through next week will be the signing of a manager for the Brooklyn team. President Ebbetts, of the Trolley Dodgers, will be on the ground, and he will try to figure out and pull through some deals whereby he can get the Boston Nationals to let him have "Bad Bill" Dahlen, whom Ebbetts has set his heart on leading his team the coming season.

Several minor deals are also talked of, but nothing has yet taken definite shape.

If Gray and Groom, two Pacific Coast recruits, should come up to expectations, what a wonderful pitching staff Washington will have next season. With Johnson, Hughes, Burns, Smith, Kealey, Tannehill, Gray, and Groom, Cantillon will have eight pitchers to choose from, any one of whom can deliver the goods, taking for granted, of course, that Tannehill will come back to his old form.

"Dutch" Schaefer is the real baseball comedian, according to Umpire Billy Evans, who says:

"I don't believe I'll ever forget a little stunt that he put over on me and caused me to call a game when I had made up my mind to finish the nine innings, even if I had to watch the park float away in the deluge."

"Detroit was playing a game in Cleveland three years ago July 3. Quite a good crowd was in attendance when the game started, although the weather was very threatening. It being the day before the Fourth, I wanted to get the game in by 1 o'clock. The game was played in the first three innings, scoring. In the last of the fourth, Cleveland scored three runs, and it was raining quite a little. Of course, the crowd for the game behind was to delay the game, and the Tigers carried out the programme. Each batter had to carefully wipe his hat before coming to the plate, and after each stroke he would let it slip away, and then have to rewrite it. Every second brought more rain and more kicks from the Tigers, but I decided that the game was going to be played, and it was."

"When the Tigers had gone out for the last half of the seventh, and I had assumed my position as umpire, I saw Schaefer stationed on the second sack arrayed in a mackintosh and holding an umbrella, both of which he had borrowed from a spectator."

"It was too much for me and I called the game."

"Tommy Connolly always gets mad and then laughs when he recalls how Schaefer objected to a third strike he called on him in a game with Cleveland. Schaefer was at the bat in a pinch, and he wanted to deliver, as a hit meant a victory. Two were out and two and three on Schaefer, when he let one go by that Connolly decided was a strike, and the rally was over."

In his anger over being declared out, Schaefer did a war dance that would have done credit to a real Injun. Suddenly he stopped, said a few things to Connolly, grabbed the ball out of Nig Clarke's hands, stood perfectly still for a moment, and then batted the ball far over the grand stand.

"Connolly stood as if stupefied for a minute or so, and then he sent Schaefer after the ball and on his way to his hotel. He was through for the afternoon. The next day he informed Tommy that he had made up his mind to hit the ball out of the lot when he went to the plate, and he decided to do so even if it cost him three days and a little bit of money. It did."

"Schaefer tried to introduce a little vaudeville into a game at Philadelphia, but cynical Jack Sheridan refused to see the humor of the situation."

"When Sheridan came on the field to get the batting order, he noticed 'German' wearing a beard that would have made any Teuton comedian envious. He wanted a scream, and got many a laugh, for a ball player with a beard was something of a novelty in baseball."

"Schaefer was the second man at bat in the first inning, and as he approached the plate the crowd simply went into convulsions. Just as he reached the batter's box he heard the following in Sheridan's gruff voice:

"What do you think this is—a burlesque show? Remove those false things in a hurry, or I'm liable to keep you out so long you will be looking for a job in some 10-30-30 show."

"You wear a mustache that looks worse than many a false one I have seen, and Bob Emile wears a wig and gets away with it without any objections on the part of the players," replied Schaefer.

"With a jerk Schaefer removed the false whiskers, stuffed them into his hip pocket, and proceeded to strike out, while the crowd simply howled with delight."

Smallwood After Dorando.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 2.—Percy Smallwood, the Welsh long-distance runner, today began active training for his race here January 11 with Dorando Pietri, the Italian Marathon runner. The men will go the regular Marathon distance.

TECH'S BEST ALL-AROUND ATHLETE.

R. E. MCCARTHY.

Robert E. McCarthy, captain-elect of the Tech football team, has been inducted to come out for basketball, and the big fellow played his first real game last night against the Y. M. C. A. Reserves, making a creditable showing as one of the guards.

McCarthy has already scored honors in rowing and on track, and if he makes good in basketball he will easily be recognized as the best all-around athlete at the McKinley School.

JAPAN TAKES KINDLY
TO UNCLE SAM'S GAMEPat Flaherty Tells of Big Hit Baseball Has Made in Orient—Predicts International Games.

Great international baseball contests are predicted for the near future by Patsy Flaherty, the well-known National League twirler, who lives at Carnegie, says the Pittsburgh Sun. Flaherty is now in Manila with a team of Americans, and a letter from him received here recently indicates that Uncle Sam's national sport has made a great hit in the Orient.

The game is not only played all around the world now, but in many places it is played remarkably well. The experience in foreign countries is not different from our own—plenty of good pitching and fielding, but a scarcity of hard hitters.

Flaherty also sent some Japanese newspapers. The Japan Advertiser, printed in Yokohama Thanksgiving Day, says:

"The American baseball players opened their series of games in Yokohama yesterday. Before the game the usual formalities of photographing the teams was new to Yokohama people. Flaherty has a style of his own and is very deceptive."

The Americans won the first game, 17 to 1. On the following Sunday, Flaherty pitched a no-hit game, and the Americans, who got only three hits themselves, won by a score of 3 to 0. The Yokohama team recovered from the stage fright that handicapped it in the first game and played fast baseball. A familiar line in the introduction to the account of this game is: "A close decision at first base by the umpire causes a riot among the spectators."

On this team were Pitcher Bill Burns and Jim Delehanty, of the Washington club.
